BRISTOL, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To Albert B. Collins
Eliot H. Stetson
Clifford P. Sherman

GREETING:

YOU are hereby appointed to appraise, on oath, the estate and effects of William W. Barseley late of Fairhaven in said County of Bristol, deceased, which may be in said Commonwealth. When you have performed that service, you will deliver this order, with your doings in pursuance thereof, to Gora W. Andrews administrator of the estate of said deceased, that he may return the same to the Probate Court for said County of Bristol.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this sixth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six

John M. [Signature] Register of Probate Court.

BRISTOL, ss. New Bedford November 24 A.D. 1896. Then the above-named appraisers personally appeared and made oath that they would faithfully and impartially discharge the trust reposed in them by the foregoing order.

BOX FROM HOME.

Monday Feb. 3, 1862. At 12 o'clock word came into the tent that the team had come with boxes from the express office. Went out and found Harry Simonds with the Detachment. He showed me the box. I carried it to his quarters and opened it. I received four immense pies, two splendid cakes, tea, coffee, sugar, pop corn, papers etc.

Wednesday Feb. 5th. Most of the Detachments had a drill on their guns. The order was in the morning, 'Empty beds!' In the afternoon the straw came, but it was wet and damp, so I could not fill my bed, and I had to turn in on the ground.

Thursday Feb. 6. Went out at $\frac{1}{4}$ past 6 to Roll Call. Before we were dismissed to our quarters we were ordered to appear at 10 o'clock in full uniform with side arms; horses hitched in and cannoneers mounted, but a hail storm came up at 8 o'clock, and it has continued to rain, snow, and hail about all day.

Friday Feb. 7. All of the men besides myself except one, filled their beds with the damp straw, the consequence was they all got cold, while Carsley and myself are well. After breakfast we were ordered to appear at 10 o'clock in full uniform with side arms, for the Review. The drivers hitched in their horses at 10, and at $\frac{1}{2}$ past the cannoneers were on the boxes. It was a splendid sight. Went through the drill of 'Mounting and Dismounting,' and at 11 o'clock, the gun Detachments were dismissed to their quarters, and the drivers had to turn out for Riding drill. They returned at $\frac{1}{2}$ past 12, looking muddy enough.

Sunday, Feb. 9, 1862. The men were called into line at 11 o'clock for divine service. After singing two or three tunes, and reading a chapter in the Bible,—Matthew 4th chapter,—we were dismissed.

by a ricochet shot, the terrible enfilading fire we were under, and the charge made by the Battery from the rifle pits across an open field to a position not over five hundred yards from the enemy's position or earthworks, is my remembrance of this fight."

NOTES OF PRIVATE WM. H. DUNHAM, MARCH 29, 1901.

"On June 3d, 1864, occurred one of the most daring things of the war, the charge of the 5th Mass. Battery. This was the first instance ever known of any battery making a charge unprotected by infantry. The position of the rebel battery was such that it was able to annoy our infantry, without receiving any check. General Griffin saw that if a battery could advance to a knoll within 400 yards of them, the advantage would then be ours. He came to Captain Phillips and said, 'Dare you take your battery to yonder knoll?'

Captain Phillips answered,—

'I dare take my men anywhere.'

General-Griffin then said: 'I want a battery on that knoll, but I do not order you there.'

However, orders were immediately given by Captain Phillips.

I, as No. 1, took my sponge staff and bucket, William Carsley as No. 2, a round of ammunition, and so on. The order was then given,—

'Limber to the front, double quick. March!'

We started in on the yell under a heavy fire. The 14th New York were in our rear, they told us they did not expect to see a man or horse standing.

As soon as we came in battery, there was rapid work until the rebels were silenced. Our only casualty was the loss of Comrade W. H. H. Lapham, who was killed during the charge in the open field.

Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

In 1891, again at "Young's" October 7th, when I presented the members with a reproduction of a photograph of Captain C. A. Phillips, I had struck off for the occasion.

The Twenty-Second Annual Reunion was held at New Bedford August 9th, 1892. Clambake dinner at Fort Phoenix, Fairhaven, at one p. m., and supper and business meeting at New Bedford. After the clambake we were photographed in a group.

DEATH OF LIEUT. PAGE.

After the war closed Lieut. Mason W. Page pursued various avocations in Cleveland, Ohio, New Bedford, and Lynn, Mass., where he died September 29, 1893. He is buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, New Bedford.

I did not attend the reunion in 1894, which was held at Salem Willows, Salem, on Wednesday, Aug. 22d. Nearly 50 members were present. Captain George D. Allen of Malden was elected President; John S. Doane of Boston first Vice President, Wm. W. Carsley, Fairhaven, second Vice President. George L. Newton, Weymouth, Secretary, Thomas E. Chase, Boston, Treasurer. Executive Committee J. A. Wood, Edward T. Wilson, and George L. Newton. Relief Committee James H. Saxon, W. W. Carsley, John S. Doane and George L. Newton.

The Relief Committee was instructed to decorate the graves of deceased members, and it was voted to allow brothers and sons of deceased members to become honorary members.

The reunion of 1895, was held at New Bedford August 28th, 44 members being present. Speeches were made by Capt. John B. Hyde, Capt. Henry D. Scott, Jonas Shackley, Benjamin Story, Hon. Rufus A. Soule brother of Henry W. Soule, Wm. F. Nye brother of Lieut. Ephraim B. Nye, Frank A. Milliken and myself. Mr. Nye was sutler of the Battery and entertained us. Judge Milliken was elected associate member. His brother Albert F. Milliken was the first one killed.

The oldest member present was Stephen Townsend of Fall River aged 71, the youngest was Wm. H. Dunham of Fairhaven aged 52. The only death of the year was Michael Hewitt of Newton. Officers elected were Capt. John B. Hyde, President, John F. Murray and J. Augustus Wood Vice Presidents. Thomas E. Chase Treasurer and Geo. L. Newton, Secretary. The Executive Committee were J. S. Doane, W. A. Waugh, William Reynolds, and Geo. L. Newton.

The Twenty-Sixth Annual Reunion took place on Wednesday Oct. 7, 1896, at Young's Hotel. I was at that time at Kohala on the large island of Hawaii, where I went with Attorney General Smith. John F. Murray was elected President. John E. Dyer and W. A. Waugh Vice Presidents. Thomas E. Chase Treasurer and Geo. L. Newton Secretary. The Executive Committee were E. T. Wilson, Geo. H. Chadwick and J. Augustus Wood.

In a postscript of a letter to me written by Mr. Geo. L. Newton of Weymouth, Jan'y 4, 1897, he said with reference to the losses by death and the next reunion:—"We missed you at our annual reunion. I learned by the press afterward that you were out of the country. We have lost by death the last year five members, as follows:—Sergt. Wm. B. Pattison, Wm. W. Carsley (Carsley died in New Bedford, July 4, 1896, from a frightful wound received while ramming in the charge of one of the brass field pieces, —previously mentioned as owned by that city—for firing the noonday salute. He was taken to the hospital and died in a few hours), Joseph Whitcher, Leonard Luther, and
